

Toilettenpapier

Köstlich!

Worst episode ever

Inside this Tissue:

Worst episode ever	1
Annika's Jokes	1
Calendar of Events	2
Trivia for you!	2

Whenever I cannot find anything of substance on the net to "copy and paste" onto the TP, I know that I am in that proverbial "shit hole." Trying to come up with a topic every week is hard stuff. It really is. I was watching TV last week and a comedian, not a very famous one, told her audience that her source of inspiration came from events that happened that same day. So in fact she would mentally whip up something of substance to talk about on what she ate for breakfast, which hair products she used to prevent the onset of dandruff, etc. Keeping this in mind, I realized that my life is quite boring. It really is. Monotonous and dreary are the two words that I would use to describe my life. The most amazing thing I did yesterday was eating a turkey sandwich from Wawa. Albeit, there were some interestingly flavorful parts of the sandwich where there existed satisfyingly proportional parts of mustard, lettuce, and turkey. Yep that had to be the high point of my day yesterday. Yes. I have no inspirational source. Ergo, I am not human. And for that, I am going to fill up the rest of this space with a picture of a seagull. I like seagulls. They make me laugh.

Annika's Weak Jokes of the Week:

Why did the lettuce blush?

Because it saw the salad dressing!!!

What did the buffalo say when his kid was leaving the house?

Bison!!!

What did the judge say when the skunk walked into the courtroom?

Odor in the court!!!

(Hahahhaahahahha)

Franky Lee
KCECH Confused Mgr
franky@wharton

SCHEDULE OF EVENTS

ELECTION DAY Tuesday, 11/02, "Who's gonna be the next president?" Come see who the next leader of our nation will be with members from your college house. Held in the TV lounge. Be on the lookout for fliers!

Thursday, 11/04, Must See T.V. 8PM. Come watch your favorite line-up of shows, one after the other. Munchies will be provided!

Thursday, 11.4, Dinner Discussion with Dr. Karen Beckman, Professor in History of Art. She will be discussing the subject of car crashes with detail given to the portrayal of women in film.

Saturday, 11/06, KCECH Semiformal: "Clock Strikes Ten" at the Double Tree Hotel. Come spend the night dancing and having fun. Talk to your RA/GA for all the details.

Wednesday, 11/10, Study Break: Play-dough/ Modeling Clay - Come relive your childhood by touching mooshy things. Delicious. Be on the lookout for flyers.

Thursday, 11/11, Writing Tips in the Seminar Room from 7-7:45PM: Improve your writing skills. Learn how to write good. (I meant to use improper grammar there.)

Saturday, 11/13, Penn PM: Showing of "Good Bye Lenin!" in the TV Lounge. Watch this great German flick. Amazing movie. A must see, deliciously entertaining.

AHHH AIM CRAZY!?

In another effort (made in vain?) to revolutionize the TP, we have created an AIM screen-name, KCECH_TP. Add me in to your buddylist, and whenever there are house events going on, I'll i.m. you to tell you about it...

November 2004

SUN	MON	TUE	WED	THU	FRI	SAT
31	1	2 Election Day: Who's gonna be the next president of the United States of America?	3	4 Must See T.V., 8PM  Dinner Discussion with Dr. Beckman	5	6 KCECH Semi formal at the Doubletree Hotel
7	8	9	10 Study Break: Modeling Clay and Play-Dough	11 Writing Tips	12	13 Penn PM: "Good Bye, Lenin!"

REALLY? HUH? REALLY? - TRIVIA

- » Street Boulevard in Joplin, Missouri, was named for Gabby Street, the manager of the St. Louis Cardinals in the early 1930s.
- » Thornfield Hall is the setting for the famous novel, Jane Eyre.
- » The Mona Lisa measures less than 2 feet by 2 feet.
- » Studies of the Dead Sea Scrolls indicate that the passage in the Bible known as the Sermon on the Mount is actually an ancient Essene prayer dating to hundreds of years before the birth of Christ.
- » To clean tarnished copper bottoms of pots and pans, spread a little ketchup onto the bottom. Let it sit for about one minute. Wipe it clean and rinse.
- » The most common name for a pub in Britain is The Red Lion.
- » Studies shown by the Psychology Department of DePaul University show that the principal reason to lie is to avoid punishment.
- » To keep a corpse's lips shut, undertakers pass a suture through the nasal septum and tie it to the lower lip, or use an injector needle gun to place wires into the lower and upper jaws; these are then twisted together to close the mouth.
- » The most landed on square in the British version of Monopoly is Trafalgar Square.
- » Suzie Derkins is the only character in Bill Watterson's comic strip, "Calvin and Hobbes," to have a first and last name. Calvin's parents have no names at all.
- » To keep knives sharp, do not cut on glass, porcelain, or metal surfaces.
- » The most popular first name in the world is Muhammad.
- » Tablecloths were originally meant to be served as towels with which dinner guests could wipe their hands and faces after eating.
- » To prevent some numbers from occurring more frequently than others, dice used in crap games in Las Vegas are manufactured to a tolerance of 0.0002 inches, less than 1/17 the thickness of a human hair.
- » The most requested photo from the National Archives is a shot of Elvis offering his services as a drug enforcement agent to Nixon.
- » Tarzan's mate Jane's last name was Parker.
- » To see how many children a newlywed couple will have, the Finns count the number of grains of rice in the bride's hair. Czechs send off the newlyweds under a barrage of peas. Italians throw sugared almonds. An African tradition is to throw corn kernels (to signify fertility).
- » The most visited cemetery in the world is Cimetière du Père Lachaise. Established in 1805, the lush grounds contain the tombs of over one million people, including such luminaries as composer Chopin; singer Édith Piaf; writers Oscar Wilde, Molière, Balzac, Marcel Proust, and Gertrude Stein; artists David, Delacroix, Pissarro, Seurat, and Modigliani; actors Sarah Bernhardt, Simone Signoret, and Yves Montand; and dancer Isadora Duncan. Cimetière du Père Lachaise's most visited tomb, however, is that of the Doors' lead singer, Jim Morrison, who died of an overdose in Paris in 1971.
- » Taxi drivers in London, England, are required to pass a training test based upon "The Blue Book." Preparation for this test takes between two to four years. Of ten who start, eight or nine drop out before completion.
- » The name "piano" is an abbreviation of Cristofori's original name for the instrument: piano et forte, or soft and loud.
- » The "Sandcastle Effect" was identified by researchers at the University of Notre Dame, Indiana, and first published on June 18, 1997. It explained why sandcastles do not collapse after the sand in them has almost totally dried out.
- » The Associated Press reported in December 1985, in Eugene, Oregon, a 6-month-old kitten set a Christmas tree on fire while batting at the lighted bulbs. The heat of the fire cracked a nearby fishbowl, and water from the bowl doused some of the fire. Firefighters arrived within minutes of the fire starting and put out the fire, which had spread to the carpet. A goldfish named Clyde was found lying prone in the cracked bowl, and when put into another bowl with water, was quickly revived and survived the ordeal. The water in Clyde's bowl had prevented the fire from getting out of control.